- Verify product compliance with customer requirements, document measurement results, and collaborate with production to analyze and resolve deviations.
- Serve as the primary lab contact. Ensure production readiness by managing CMM programming, gauge availability, and fixture preparation (including MSA validation).
- Conduct full PPAP measurements and capability studies.
- Coordinate the periodic inspection, maintenance, and calibration of all measurement equipment and gauges.

» Your Profile

- Experience programming and operating CMM machines (Zeiss preferred); deep understanding of GD&T and technical drawings (metric and imperial systems).
- Strong working knowledge of Measurement System Analysis (MSA) and capability studies.
- Analytical, independent thinker who takes high ownership of tasks and is eager to learn new testing technologies.
- Strong communication skills with a focus on teamwork and collaborative problem-solving.

» Our Offer

- Starting salary of $70,000/year (commensurate with experience).
- Full-time, fully onsite role in Rock Hill, SC (Monday – Friday).
- Comprehensive health insurance package and regular company activities (available after a 2-month probationary period), plus paid vacation.
- Thorough, hands-on training to establish you as an industry leader within a motivated, international, family-owned business.
